Internship Financial Need Analysis Form

Department of Communications

Financial Need Attributes

The primary responsibility for financing your education rests with you and your family. In awarding need-based scholarships, we will consider your personal resources as well as those of your family. President Spencer W. Kimball taught,

The responsibility for each person's social, emotional, spiritual, physical, or economic well-being rests first upon himself, second upon his family, and third upon the Church if he is a faithful member thereof. No true Latter-day Saint, while physically or emotionally able, will voluntarily shift the burden of his own family's well-being to someone else (in General Conference. Oct. 1977.)

Instructions:

Complete ALL of the following questions. DO NOT leave boxes blank. If you will not file your taxes before the scholarship deadline, use good-faith estimates.

If you are a citizen or permanent resident of the United States, submit the applicable FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid) to the government by the applicable scholarship application deadline to ensure that BYU receives the results before evaluations begin. This federal needs analysis will be used to validate the data you provide in this application. If the FAFSA results are not available by the time scholarship decisions are made, you may not be considered for a financial need-based award.

If you do NOT have a verifiable financial need, please do not initiate this process.
